

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend George Dennehy and the You Inspire organization to perform in schools. George's story was very inspirational to our entire school community. The students and staff were all captivated by his talents and journey. Not only did George entertain us, he also engaged the students in the assembly by inviting them to use their feet to write their names. George was very intentional about sharing real life stories that our children have been or could be faced with and gave advice on how to overcome. I was overwhelmed with appreciation from staff about how much they thought the students will benefit from the performance. It is without a doubt that this tour will bless many across the nation.

Sincerely,
